RINGLING CIRCUS

Great Parade on Morning of Show Day in Newark, Saturday, May 12. Big Show Coming.

Ringling Brothers exhibit at Newark Saturday, May 12. The attractions offered by Ringling Brothers' circus the current season are more imposing than ever before. The performers are the pick and flower of the world. The spectacle of "The Field of the Cloth of Gold" employs 1,200 people, and the scenic and costume accessories cost a fortune. The fun is provided by fifty clowns. The spectacle runs about thirty minutes, and precedes the ring acts. The march of the chivalric hosts introduces all the people and horses with the great shows, and is a thrilling and picturesque relief from the usual circus entry. The tournaments of the sixteenth century are illustrated by athletic feats of the kind peculiar to this historic time of romance. A ballet divertissement of 200 young girls is a fascinating feature of this production. In the circus program are 200 acts, interpreted by 375 performers. Over 200 horses are required for the swiftly changing bill. Among the sixty celebrated riders are the Clark Brothers, four Bedins and Gilbert Eldred, of European renown; Albert Crandall, Orrin Davineport, May Davenport, the Hobsons, Rhoda Royal, Mme. Royal, John Agee, the DeVenes, Nora Satterfield, and Nellie Storer. In the great gymnastic features of the show are many European performers, never seen before in this country. The Clarkonians and DeKocks are first among these. The Collin Cairon troupe, Dacoma amily, three Alvos, Onri troupe, 5 Momatis, 5 Juggling Normans, Young Bros., Nedson Comiques and Herr Fuss are in the same high class of gymnastic artists.

The bicycling specialties of the beautiful Ernesto Sisters thrillingly illustrate the possibilities of riding upon this delicate machine. They perform athletic feats of amazing difficulty and novelty upon a high wire with the graceful ease of experts in ground gymnastic work. This feature is one of the sensational numbers in the immense program.

The cure for man, for woman, or for child

Is to cure the cause—the kidneys.

Doan's Kidney Pills cure sick kidneys—

Cure all the varied forms of kidney suffering.

Newark testimony guarantees every box.

Mrs. Mary E. Manville, of 24 South 4th St., Newark, N. J., says: "Doan's Kidney Pills are the best thing I know of for rheumatic troubles. I got more relief out of one box than from all the other remedies I have ever used. I had suffered a great deal from rheumatism in my loins and back. It caught me first in one place and then in another, but was always present somewhere. Nothing seemed to give any relief until I got Doan's Kidney Pills at Crayton's drug store. Apparently they drove all the rheumatism out of my system for I have never had a return of the trouble and that was over five years ago. My husband has also used Doan's Kidney Pills with good results."

GENERAL RISING

If Russian Parliament Fails to Satisfy Present Demands.

St. Petersburg, May 11.—Nazarenko, the peasant who has been elected to the lower house of parliament for the province of Kharkoff, has arrived here. He declared that the peasants all over the country are awaiting the solution of the agrarian problem with the greatest interest. If parliament should adjourn without satisfying their demand he predicts a general revolution among the peasants. Nazarenko further says that the peasants must own themselves the land they till, and that they are willing to pay for it, and he believes that it would be a serious mistake to abolish the system of the communal holdings to which the peasants are accustomed.

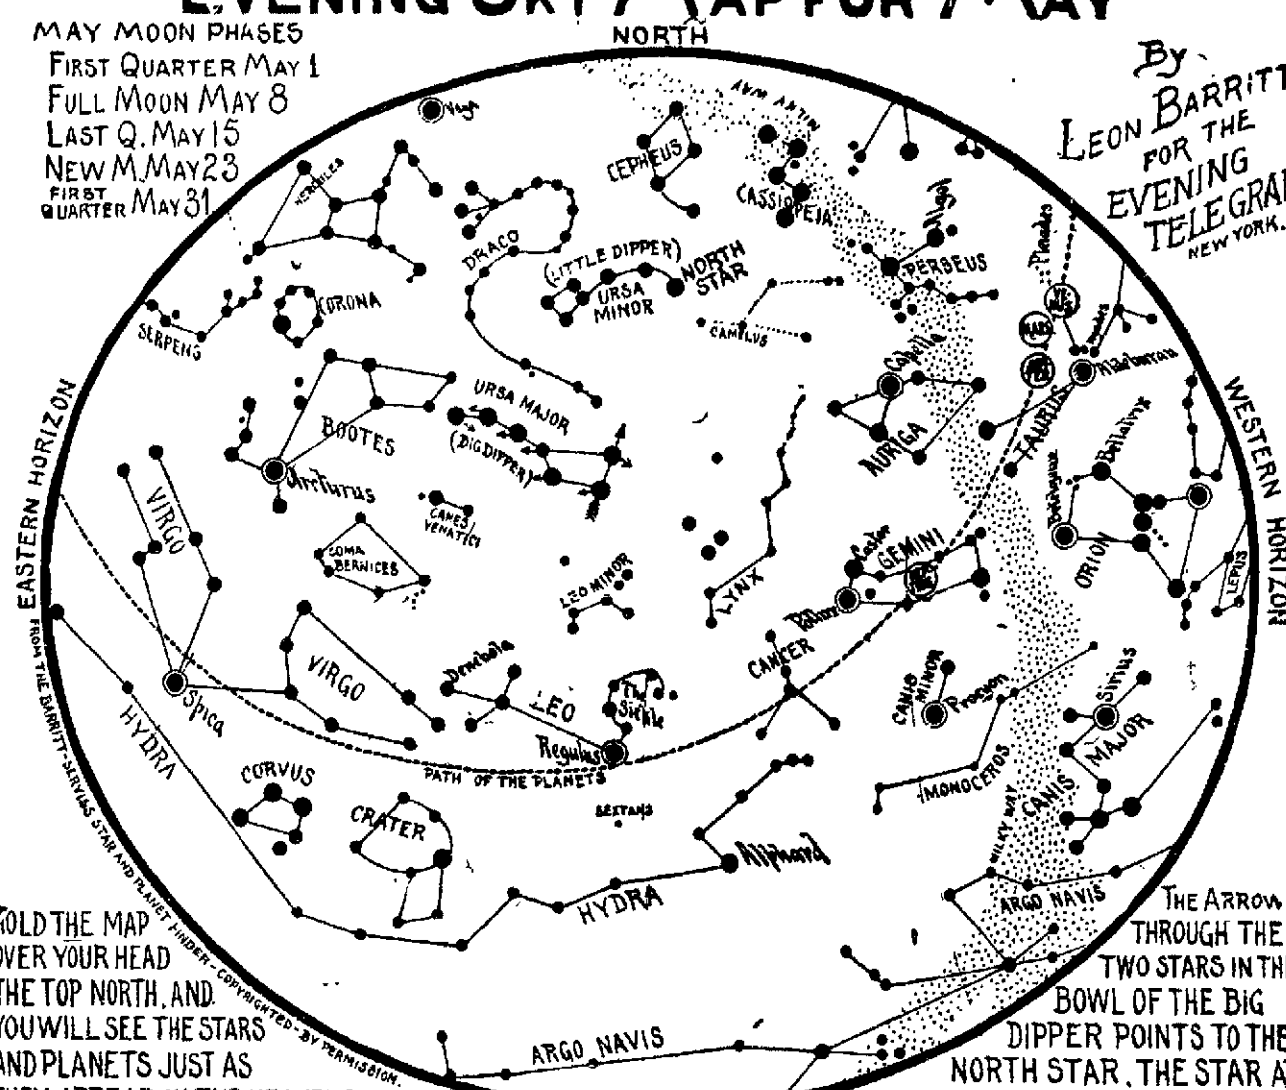

Against Kentucky Corporation.

Boston, May 11.—A bill in equity asking for the appointment of a receiver was filed in the superior court by a committee of bondholders against the American Reserve Bond company of Kentucky. The state savings bank commissioners are investigating the company, which on Feb. 24 was forbidden by the Massachusetts commissioners to do business in this state.

By LEON BARRITT FOR THE EVENING TELEGRAM NEW YORK.

SOLD THE MAP OVER YOUR HEAD THE TOP NORTH, AND YOU WILL SEE THE STARS AND PLANETS JUST AS THEY APPEAR IN THE HEAVENS.

THE ARROW THROUGH THE TWO STARS IN THE BOWL OF THE BIG DIPPER POINTS TO THE NORTH STAR, THE STAR AT THE END OF THE HANDLE OF THE LITTLE DIPPER.

All loyal star gazers will rejoice that we are to have Venus, the matchless planetary wanderer, with us in the western evening sky during the coming summer months. This planet is now with us early in the evening for a short time after sunset. Each night will find it a little higher up in the sky on its eastward march, until, on September 20, it will have reached its greatest elongation, and one month later, October 25, will have attained its greatest brilliancy.

On the evening of May 5, by seven o'clock, Jupiter, Mars and Venus will be grouped as shown on the accompanying map, a very unusual planetary gathering. Mars will be northernmost of the trio, but as it is now receding from us will be only faintly visible. Venus and Jupiter, however, should present a strikingly beautiful sight. They will be about eight or ten moon disks apart, with Venus at the west and Jupiter on the east.

On the evening of May 12, Venus and Jupiter will be in conjunction, Venus passing about four moon disks south of Jupiter. This will be a fine opportunity to compare the brilliancy of these two great planetary rivals, although Venus will be taken somewhat at a disadvantage, as it will not as before stated, reach its greatest brilliancy until the latter part of October, but there is little doubt that it will even now far outshine the massive Jupiter.

THE SIZE OF VENUS.
Venus is 7,620 miles in diameter and 67,000,000 miles from the sun, and Jupiter is 36,000 miles in diameter and 483,000,000 miles distant from the great solar luminary.

Mercury will be a morning star for about ten days before and after May 6, and will be found low in the east about an hour before sunrise. This swift footed little planet is found with difficulty and seen only under the most favoring conditions of sky and atmosphere. This is particularly true in the city when it appears as an evening star shortly after sunset.

The smoke from the factories hangs low on the horizon and shuts it out of the view, so that about the only time a city star gazer can get a glimpse of it is by getting up an hour before sunrise, which requires no little enthusiasm and courage in the cause.

In March of this year it was an evening star, and very beautifully in view but it was the first time in nearly a year that the writer had been able to get a glimpse of it as a morning or an evening star. Its size is about that of a first magnitude star.

WINTER CONSTELLATION GOING.
The last of the winter constellations are leaving us. Orion and Taurus linger in the evening sky, but they are setting earlier and will soon bid us good night, not to return to our evening sky until next December. We can find some compensation, however, in the fine opportunity to study Ursa Major, the Big Dipper, that now splendidly defined constellation being in the zenith. While it never goes below the horizon in this latitude it dips so close to it in the winter months that some of the stars are very much dimmed.

Rev. De Witt Snyder, a well known Brooklyn pastor, for ten years a missionary in the Congo Free States, recently told the writer that in the summer months he could see the three stars in the handle of the Big Dipper from his station, although it was six degrees below the equator, and that they shone like a beacon light from some and friends thousands of miles away.

The term "fixed stars" can only be applied with safety to a period of a few hundred years, as it is known that the stars are moving in every direction, but being situated at such great distances, and undoubtedly moving with great rapidity, the changes in their positions are only perceptible when considered over vast periods of time.

Of the seven principal stars forming the Big Dipper (see map and small arrows indicating direction) it has been found that five are moving in parallel lines, but that one of the pointers, one in the handle are moving in opposite directions, and in the course of centuries the Dipper will change its shape.

Our sun, with its planetary train is known to be moving also, as everything in the universe must in response to the law of gravity, and no part of the great system can be "fixed."

COOKEY JONES

Just Home from Pacific Coast Tells of Talk With People From San Francisco.

Mr. and Mrs. O. C. Jones arrived on B. and O. 104 from Cincinnati Monday, after a six months trip, and Mr. Jones gives the following summary of their extensive trip:

"By my experiences for the last ten days will say U. S. America, Ohio, Licking county, Newark, Hudson avenue is good enough for me.

"Left Los Angeles, Calif., Monday, April 23, train being five hours late. All was confusion, trains being run whenever they could get out. On our sleeper were 23 passengers who were in the California earthquake—all glad to get out of the country. For a day or two we talked of nothing but earthquake and giving our experiences.

"In the opposite seat to us was a Mr. H. J. Hay, wife and four months old boy, whose home is in New Orleans, La. They were in a hotel in Santa Cruz, when the first shock came, and Mr. Kay was flung to the floor; a lamp overturned, setting fire to the baby's crib, and hard work was had saving the little one's life. The hotel was a total loss. Santa Cruz, Salina, and San Jose suffered the greatest losses outside of San Francisco. A Mrs. P. S. Peterson was returning with her two children to their former home in Joplin, Mo. Her husband was forced to remain in 'Frisco to aid the sufferers. A M. E. Lane, a member of the Fruit Dispatch company, whose home is in New Orleans, told me he had on one of three fruit wagons with the driver at 5:15 a. m. at Third and Thompson streets, when the quake occurred, and when the buildings commenced to fall, he thought the end of the world had come. He said he had not a drop of water for 24 hours, and to describe the suffering and sights he passed through was impossible.

At Tucson, Ariz., Tuesday, April 24 we had a thirty minutes stop, and a young man named Colby of the Colby Musical Family, showing at San Francisco, had a Kodak, and took the picture of our party, twenty-two in number, and will send us all a picture as a souvenir and keepsake.

"Thursday night, April 26, Mrs. M. Sperry, Mrs. Jones and myself left the car at New Orleans for a two days' sight seeing and it was our good luck to run into the seventh annual reunion of Union Confederate Veterans of the South. On Friday we witnessed the largest parade and they claim 'the grandest ever held in the south.' It surely was a sight for us all, as all the southern states south of the Mason and Dixon line were represented in the parade. The old southern flags and confederate uniforms worn in the war of '61-'64 were represented, and by the looks of them Father Time and moths had been at work upon them.

"I must say the American flag was not flying as I would like to have seen it, and I did miss the Ohio boys in the parade. I will say the men and officers look much younger than those in Grand Army parades I have seen in the north, and I asked some of the citizens the cause of it and they said 'he southern boys, as a rule, were much younger when they enlisted than those in the north.

"Well, must close, as the letter is long enough. Will say in closing that two events have happened to me of much interest in the last ten days—one, being in a genuine earthquake shakeup, and the other, participating in a Confederate grand reunion, which I am glad to be out of, on account of a lack of enthusiasm on my part.

Yours,
COOKEY JONES.

CRESCENT CONTEST

The diamond ring contest at the Crescent rink for the most popular lady skater in Newark will undoubtedly become very interesting before the close of the week. At the opening of the contest last evening much interest was shown as will be seen by the following list of candidates:

Anna Glade 39, Lena Eagan 3, Marion Hatch 6, Cora Coleman 15, Mrs. Robert White 75, Irene Cosgrove 3, Jessie Cady 30, Mrs. Chas. Miller 6, Mrs. C. F. Murphy 3, Frances Wright 15, Ruth Allen 3, Bernice Hatch 3, Mabel Jones 2, Roxy Allen 6, Mary Ritter 3, Mrs. A. E. Williams 6, B. Pierce 3.

Commencing this evening the standing of candidates will not be published until they have received 30 votes or over. Diligent search was made for the "Missing Man" but no one was able to find him. He skated nearly every music during the evening and no doubt could have been captured had those on his trail been more careful in the manner of approaching him. He will be at the Crescent every night until caught.

Admission and skate tickets may be purchased in advance during the diamond ring contest and will be good until May 30th.

To Establish Road Line. Viewers were engaged Tuesday in finding the true line of the Cherry Valley road, west of the city. Parties are desirous of establishing wire and hedge fences, and owing to the fact that the records have been lost and the minutes of the establishment of the road destroyed, they appealed to the commissioners to have the line of the road re-established. This is probably the first case of the kind ever had in Licking county. Should the viewers report that they are unable to ascertain the boundary line of the road, the commissioners will probably commence a civil action in the court against the owners of the land along this road to ascertain and have the boundaries of the road judicially established.

Sufficient evidence has already been produced before the interstate commerce commission to show that the railroad companies have exercised a discrimination against both anthracite and bituminous coal operators which was contrary to law and justice. They have denied cars to operators who were not in favor with their officials and have given special facilities to others who "stood in" with those officials. Some of these officials held stock in favored coal companies, while the railroads themselves virtually owned other such companies. Obviously the opportunities for a square deal for some coal operators did not exist. The evidence thus far taken in this investigation has served to make clearer than ever the necessity for some efficient and impartial regulation of the doings of railroad officials. The opponents of such regulation loudly declare that the great abuses complained of do not longer exist, but there is constantly being produced, either before the interstate commerce commission or the courts, abundant evidence of the fact that this claim is untrue, and that there is need for the law to do that which the railroads, if left alone, will not do.

Great Britain and Turkey are engaged in a dispute over the claim of the latter to a portion of the Mt. Sinai peninsula, which the former asserts belongs to Egypt. Turkey has sent troops into the disputed territory and this has mightily exercised the British government. Negotiations are in progress concerning the matter, which is one that will require careful handling. Since the reverses of Russia in the war with Japan, the Turks have developed an aggressive tendency. They have mounted new guns in the defenses of the Dardanelles, something they would not have dared to do before the Russo-Japanese conflict. They have also asserted claims to Persian territory and now to some said to be Egyptian. In the latter case it is suspected that they have been encouraged by Germans anxious to make trouble for Britain. While it is said that war with Turkey would be the one conflict that the present Liberal ministry might undertake, yet there is little prospect that it will do so. The Turks will, no doubt, have to yield their claim in the Sinai peninsula, but it may require some considerable time before the matter is settled.

The Dollar Savings bank is declared by bankers to be perfectly solvent. The occasion for the run was the beginning of a suit in the United States court by William P. Engel of Defiance, O., asking for an accounting with the Dollar bank and with a financial institution in this city of stocks held for Engel by the late Leland V. Prior at the time of his suicide. Answer is Filed.

In the case of the Centerburg Building and Loan Association company vs Elizabeth Goff and others, the plaintiff has filed its answer to the cross petition of the Mechanics Building and Loan company of Mansfield. It says that insisting that all of the statements and allegations contained in cross petition are improper, irrelevant and immaterial, it denies each and all of the allegations contained in the cross petition, and says that each is untrue, and asks judgment. Natural Gas Case.

The Citizens Electric Light and Power company has filed an answer in Common Pleas court in the case of the Newark Natural Gas and Fuel company vs. the Citizens company. The defendant says that it admits that plaintiff sold and delivered to defendant gas between 1901 and 1904, for the price of 8 cents per thousand; that plaintiff furnished the meter, and rendered monthly statements of the quantity of gas used, and defendant denies each of the other allegations in the petition.

Defendant says that plaintiff read said meter each month and fixed the quantity of gas consumed, and the amount of money due therefor under the contract; that the statement submitted was audited and approved, and duly settled said accounts each and every month, and the said amounts were received as a final settlement; that the said monthly settlements are conclusive upon said plaintiff, and the defendant prays judgment.

DELAYED WEDDING IS FINALLY HELD

PHEBE BOGARDUS AND THOMAS
CULLINAN HAPPY BRIDE AND GROOM.

Mr. Cullinan is a Well Known and Popular Man in Foundry Department of B. & O.

Columbus, O., May 1.—The postponed wedding of Miss Phoebe Bogardus, 1376 Engler street, and Mr. Thomas Cullinan of Newark, took place last Saturday evening at 9:30 o'clock at the home of the officiating clergyman, Rev. Father Francis W. Howard, pastor of the church of the Holy Rosary.

The groom, whose home is in Newark, arrived Friday in Columbus going directly to the home of the bride. Friday is not generally considered a lucky day for marriages and it was arranged to have the ceremony take place Saturday in the evening, inasmuch as the wedding had already been postponed from April 24 which fact is also frowned upon by the superstitious.

Originally it had been planned to have quite a large wedding, but the guests Saturday evening were only members of the family.

The bride and groom will live in Newark.

OHIO PEOPLE AT SANTA ROSA SAFE

RESIDENTS OF THAT VICINITY
ARE FROM SEVERAL COUN-

Mrs. Yarnell Writes—Received Telegram Five Days After it Was Sent from Columbus.

A large number of Ohio people from Franklin, Muskingum, Licking, Perry and Fairfield counties, who have moved to Santa Rosa, Calif., were in the recent earthquake and their relatives and friends will be interested in learning that so far as is known none have been injured, though many lost their property. Col. W. A. Taylor of Columbus, Monday received a letter from his niece, Mrs. S. D. Yarnell, under date of April 25, in which she says in part:

"Just received your telegram of April 20. We are safe and well. The earthquake leveled all the brick and stone houses in our pretty little city. A hundred or more lives were lost. Fire broke out in the collapsed buildings, making the death rate greater. No lives were lost in our city save in the hotels and flats. The residence portion was only shaken. San Jose had about the same number of buildings thrown down, but no fire broke out and the loss of life was comparatively small.

"Ohio people here so far as can be learned all escaped, save some of them lost heavily in property. R. B. Allen (formerly of Roseville) saw his entire stock of groceries go up in smoke, but he and his family escaped injury.

"Santa Rosa is caring for her own sick and wounded and for all wounded sojourners. A great number of the killed did not live in Santa Rosa and most of them were commercial travelers. The children and I send love to you both."

RENEWED ITS FIGHT

Has the Ohio Fuel Supply Co. to Get Into Cincinnati from Licking County Field.

The Ohio Fuel and Supply company has renewed the fight for a gas franchise in Cincinnati and will offer to supply gas for 25 cents a thousand. The new company, which is to lease the Cincinnati Gas and Electric company, has repudiated the agreement made with the Germans of West Virginia, and it is said that they will ask a franchise for themselves.

The Germans are preparing a 25-cent franchise for introduction, and the local company seems to have better prospects of getting into the city than since the start of the fight for cheaper gas.

COLLINS MURDER TRIAL

Bank, and in front of Keefe's saloon, right across from the head light station.

"What did you hear and see about that time?"

"I noticed 8 or 10 men cross that footbridge, a little while after I saw some more fellows go over behind them."

"How many in the second party?"

"I thought about six or eight, or ten."

"What, if anything did you hear?"

"Well, when I stepped on the outside of the building and looked over where the fellows were, I saw two distinct flashes of fire."

"What did you do when you saw these men go over there?"

"We stepped upon a platform near them."

"What did you see?"

"I heard two reports and saw the two flashes, south of where I was standing."

"What further?"

"I saw some fellows go in south and some came back toward the canal bank."

"When part came back where did they go?"

"They were talking there and I went in the building I didn't see where they went."

"How long after that did you learn that someone was shot?"

"About 20 minutes."

This witness was not cross examined. The prosecutor called Elmer Hittcock, a street car employee.

"Were you employed at the car barn on the 21st of December of last year?"

"Yes sir."

"Were you there at 4:30?"

"No, sir."

"Where were you then?"

"At the head light shack."

"What were you there for?"

"To put head lights on some cars."

"Did you see any one there?"

"A couple of men were standing there."

"Did you know where they were employed?"

"They worked over at the foundry."

"After the second party of men crossed the foot bridge, what did you notice?"

"I noticed some men coming together over in the field and I saw shots fired."

"How many?"

"Three."

"How long after these men came together, were these shots fired?"

"I judge about three or four minutes."

"After these shots were fired what did you see?"

"I saw the men separate."

"How many came back across the bridge?"

"Four altogether."

"Now, Elmer, how soon after that shooting was it that the Zanesville interurban car came past Eleventh street?"

"About three minutes."

The witness was cross examined by Phil Smythe.

"What were you at that head light station for?"

"To put lights on the car."

"How long were you there before you observed this shooting?"

"About five minutes."

"This shooting occurred about the time that you were putting the head light on didn't it?"

"No, sir."

"Well, was it before?"

"No, sir, shortly after."

"These men had been across the bridge for some time hadn't they, before the others got to the bridge?"

"Yes, sir."

"You watched these fellows, if first bunch, didn't you?"

"I watched them till they got out of sight."

"Yes. They were clear out of your sight. Now, after they were out of sight the second bunch crossed the bridge, didn't they?"

"Yes, sir."

Then how many came across the bridge after the shooting?"

"Three of them."

"Three and no more?"

"That was all I saw."

Prosecutor Fitzgerald: "You weren't paying any attention to the bridge after the three crossed were you?"

"No, sir."

Mr. Smythe: "Still you stand there looking for fifteen minutes, didn't you say?"

"I said five or ten minutes."

"All right; you were standing there for five or ten minutes. That's all."

Mr. John Green, proprietor of the blacksmith and carriage shop near Eleventh street, was next called. He stated that he heard a whistle blow and later saw three shots fired; that the man who did the shooting was a short man, wearing an overcoat; that three of the young men came back over the foot bridge and were stopped on the north canal bank and talked to 12 or 15 men there.

MORMON SCHEMES FOR MORE POWER

Striving to Secure Control of Twelve States—Strong Statements by Woman Missionary.

Kansas City, Mo., May 1.—Miss Edith Hughes, of Burton, Kansas who for 12 years, working under the missionary society of the Presbyterian church, has been a missionary among the Mormons in Utah, said last night, in an address from the pulpit of the Linwood Presbyterian church in this city:

"The great object for which the Mormon church is striving is political power. A constitutional amendment against polygamy is the only thing feared by the Mormons. They know that they cannot circumvent the national government and that if polygamy is left to state control, they can preach it, and practice it ultimately with legislative sanction, by the election of 'safe' men to office."

"When they can control 12 states, the Mormons can defeat a constitutional amendment. Their plan is to get enough Mormon votes to move to the states, which they have marked for control."

"The menace of Mormonism to the country is increased by the fact that the Mormon church is the best organized institution in the world, with the exception of the German army."

FIRST CLASH WITH TROOPS

Score of Strikers Wounded In a Riot In the Anthracite Field.

FORMER FIRE THREE VOLLEYS

Extensive Preparations Being Made by the Operators For a Long Strike. President Mitchell Arrives at Scranton—Situation on the Eve of the Convention.

Philadelphia, May 1.—With the exception of a riot at Mount Carmel, where nearly a score of men were shot in a clash between a detail of the new state police and a mob of foreign mine workers, the beginning of the fifth week of the suspension of work found the anthracite regions quiet. At numerous places attempts were made to cut coal, but these efforts in most cases proved fruitless, and comparatively little coal was sent to the surface. There were, however, a number of washeries in operation, but the quantity of coal taken from their culm banks was not large.

Several of the large coal companies are making every effort to get some of their collieries in operation, and mining officials express the belief that by the end of the week a large number of men will have returned to work. The Reading company is making extensive preparations for a long strike. Commissions were issued by the state department at Harrisburg to 80 coal and iron policemen for that company, and two carloads of deputies and non-union men arrived at Shamokin and were distributed about the collieries of the company.

Most of the locals have elected their delegates to the convention of the miners' union, which will be held in Scranton Thursday. In nearly every instance the delegates have been instructed to follow the advice of President Mitchell. The trouble at Mount Carmel has stirred up the mine workers, and the strike sentiment is much stronger than it has been heretofore.

The First Fray.

Mount Carmel, Pa., May 1.—The first serious collision in the anthracite coal regions since the mining was suspended occurred here between a mob of idle mine workers and a platoon of the new state constabulary force, and resulted in the injuring of probably 20 men, three of whom will likely die. The disturbance was caused by an attack on a detail of the state police by several hundred foreigners, who became incensed at the presence of the constables. They threw stones at the policemen and otherwise endangered their lives to such an extent that they were forced to fire on the crowd, which had swelled into thousands. The riot caused the greatest excitement in the many mining villages of the southern coal fields when it became known that mine workers had been shot down. While it is believed that a score of persons were injured in the fray, only 10 are accounted for. The three who it is thought will die are: R. Misorevich, shot in the stomach; Stanislaus Watakoski, shot in groin; Louis Wilson, shot through the body.

Miners Leaving Coal Fields.

Reading, Pa., May 1.—The Reading company is releasing some coal from its storage plants and, including the washer coal, is sending between 400 and 500 carloads through this city daily. During the suspension of mining Reading officials are making every effort to give idle trainhands work. Most of those employed in the coal trade on the Reading division were given employment on the Lebanon Valley branch. On the Shamokin division the men are less fortunate, only a few having secured employment. During the past 10 days it is estimated that fully 2,000 miners passed through Reading on their way to the large cities. Most of them travel by night and on through freight trains. They come from the vicinity of Mount Carmel, Shamokin and Shenandoah.

Soft-Coal Strike.

Punxsutawney, Pa., May 1.—By resolutions passed at mass meetings held by members of Subdistrict 5 of District 2, United Mine Workers of America, a strike is on in the soft-coal region of Clearfield, and although several thousand men are involved there has been no trouble. Notices were posted by the operators that the scale of 1902 would be paid, but the miners held out for the recognition of the union and the collection of the check-off by the operators.

Mitchell at Scranton.

Scranton, Pa., May 1.—John Mitchell will establish his headquarters at the Hotel Schadt. Unless he has something unexpected "up his sleeve," it is just about as good as settled that the convention which is to meet in the courthouse Thursday will declare in favor of a strike. That is practically unanimously believed here among the representatives of both sides to the present controversy.

Elections in Hungary.

Budapest, May 1.—Up to the present time the results of the elections in 196 constituencies have been ascertained. There have been 138 Conservatives elected, 29 Constitutionalists and 12 representatives of the Clerical People's party. The others are divided among the Saxon, Serbian and Roumanian nationalists.

IN FOOD SUPPLY. —

Mayor Schmitz Says San Francisco Faces a Shortage.

San Francisco, May 1.—A feeling akin to consternation was created at the meeting of the general municipal committee when Mayor Schmitz stated that the city faced a shortage in the food supply. It had been the popular belief, and that of many officials also, that San Francisco through the generous aid of the nation had been placed in a position above want for a long time to come, and the mayor's declaration came in the nature of a painful surprise. Mayor Schmitz informed the general committee that from information in his possession it appeared that 700 carloads of food and supplies of various descriptions had been distributed since the morning of the earthquake on April 18, and the Southern Pacific, the Santa Fe and other transportation lines had information of only 108 cars on the way. "If," said the mayor, "this information is correct, and I have no reason to doubt it, we will soon be worse off than we were a week ago. If the information had gone abroad through the country that we are amply supplied, it is most unfortunate, for it is apparent that we are not."

LABOR PROBLEM IS SERIOUS AT FRISCO

San Francisco, May 1.—One of the most serious propositions about to confront business men is the labor question. Employers and all interests are objecting to the high scale and it will not be surprising if they attempt to fix the price for all classes of labor and employ all men regardless of unions. If this is done, labor men in time a strike is liable to follow, which would create no end of trouble. Union men are banking on Mayor Schmitz and other officials elected on labor's votes to back them up.

MITCHELL'S VIEWS ON THE SHOOTING

Wilkesbarre, May 1.—Miners' President Mitchell speaks feelingly of the shooting of miners yesterday at Mount Carmel by the State constabulary, following the riot participated in by foreigners. He says the actions of the troops seem to confirm the fears of foreigners that the establishment of a state constabulary was an attempt to incorporate a Russian institution in this country. The shooting was seemingly uncalled for and is greatly to be deplored. The rioting and bloodshed at Mount Carmel have been bad blows to peace prospects. Union leaders say it has caused more strike feeling among the miners than all the differences between the operators and miners in the negotiations for settlement.

WORKING WOMEN

Their Hard Struggle Made Easier—Interesting Statements by a Young Lady in Boston and One in Nashville, Tenn.

Miss Frankie Orser

Miss Pearl Ackers

All women work; some in their homes, some in church, and some in the whirl of society. And in stores, mills and shops tens of thousands are on the never-ceasing treadmill, earning their daily bread.

All are subject to the same physical laws, all suffer alike from the same physical disturbance, and the nature of their duties, in many cases, quickly drifts them into the horrors of all kinds of female complaints, tumors, ulceration, falling and displacement, or perhaps irregularity or suppression, causing backache, nervousness, irritability and lassitude.

They especially require an invigorating, sustaining medicine which will strengthen the female organism and enable them to bear easily the fatigues of the day, to sleep well at night, and to rise refreshed and cheerful.

How distressing to see a woman struggling to earn a livelihood or perform her household duties when her back and head are aching, she is so tired she can hardly drag about or stand up, and every movement causes pain, the origin of which is due to some derangement of the female organism.

Miss F. Orser, of 14 Warrenton Street Boston, tells women how to avoid such suffering; she writes:

Dear Mrs. Pinkham—

"I suffered misery for several years with female irregularities. My back ached, I had bearing-down pains, and frequent headaches."

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound Succeeds Where Others Fail.

I could not sleep and could hardly drag around. I consulted two physicians without relief, and as a last resort, I tried Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and to my surprise, every ache and pain left me. I gained ten pounds and am in perfect health."

Miss Pearl Ackers, of 327 North Summer Street, Nashville, Tenn., writes:

Dear Mrs. Pinkham—

"I suffered with painful periods, severe backache, bearing-down pains, pains across the abdomen, was very nervous and irritable, and my trouble grew worse every month. My physician failed to help me and I decided to try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. I soon found it was doing me good. All my pains and aches disappeared, and I no longer fear my monthly periods."

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is the unfailing cure for all these troubles. It strengthens the proper muscles, and displacement with all its horrors will no more crush you.

Backache, dizziness, fainting, bearing-down pains, disordered stomach, moodiness, dislike of friends and society—all symptoms of the one cause—will be quickly dispelled, and it will make you strong and well.

You can tell the story of your sufferings to a woman, and receive helpful advice free of cost. Address Mrs. Pinkham, Lynn, Mass. The present Mrs. Pinkham is the daughter-in-law of Lydia E. Pinkham and for twenty-five years she has, under her direction and since her decease, been advising sick women free of charge.

GRANVILLE NEWS

Granville, May 1.—On Monday evening the Travelers' club held its tenth anniversary dinner at the home of Mrs. E. J. Dorsey. Nearly all the members of the club were present and a number of guests were also in attendance. An elaborate menu was served at beautifully decorated tables and Mrs. Dorsey was presented with 29 beautiful carnations, it being her thirty-ninth wedding anniversary. After dinner a number of toasts were pledged to the future prosperity of the club, Mrs. Baldwin, the president of the club, being toastmistress. Mrs. Marsh, who is soon to leave Granville, made her farewell address to the club, of which she has been a member for five years.

The Smoke Nuisance.

(Communicated)

This day having been appointed by our Mayor for a general cleaning about our habitations one word directing the attention of our loyal citizens to a small matter concerning our observance of the Golden Rule may not be presented, inasmuch as it is directed along the line of common good.

Today, the incinerary process will be used to convert matter into more sanitary elements. Let us build our fires tomorrow morning. Why? Because as the custom is now our neighbors burn the cut grass and refuse in time to fill our house with smoke and when we are about to assign our weary spirits to the land of dreams we cannot lie down with peace and charity because of omnipresent smoke.

HOCH OF KANSAS TRIES KISSING SAYS WIFE OF FORMER GOVERNOR

Mrs. Stanley Makes a Public Statement and Resigns Her Office--Governor Hoch Declares Report is Grossly Unkind and Unjust to Him.

Topeka, Kas., May 1.—Mrs. W. D. Stanley, wife of ex-Governor Stanley, has made public a statement in which she said Governor Hoch attempted to embrace and kiss her, when she called her reasons for so doing. She declared that she could not hold it and keep her self respect.

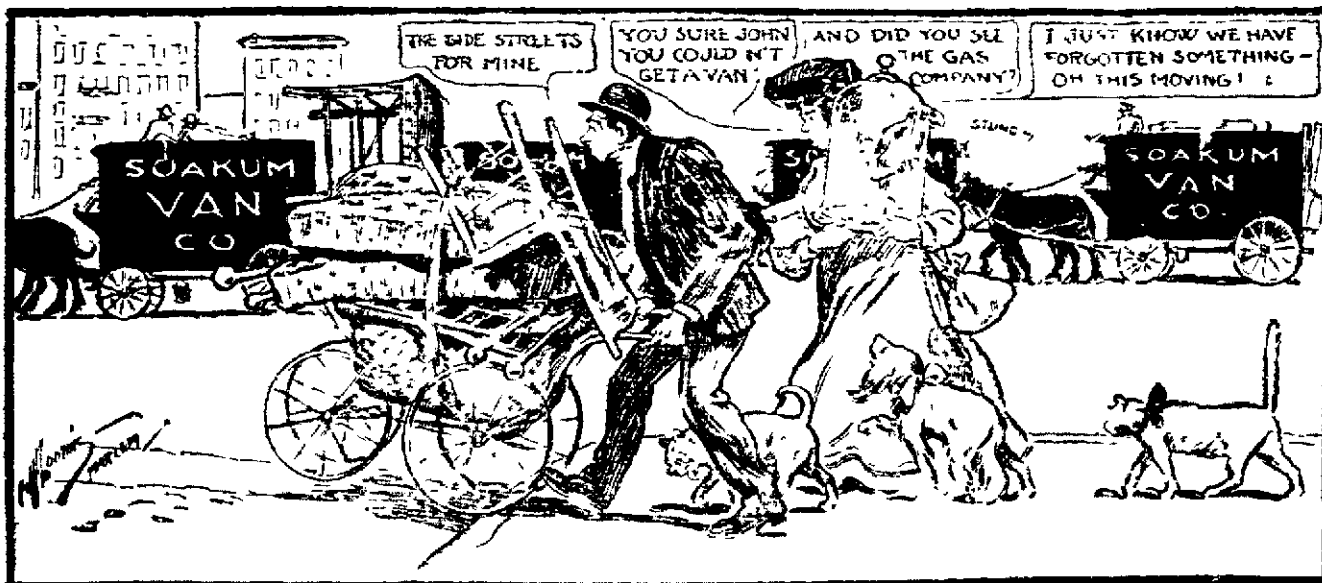

E. W. Hoch.

ed at his office on official business late last year. Mrs. Stanley was a member of the board of control of state charitable institutions, having been appointed by Governor Hoch. She resigned a month ago but the resignation was suppressed.

The governor is a candidate for re-nomination, and the story of his attempt to cross the wife of his predecessor has been a sore point about some time. After the news of the resignation reached the public Mrs. Stanley decided that she ought to tell the truth.

I think that my long residence here in Wichita has been such that I am proof against slander. This report is, unfortunately, true.

When Governor Hoch learned this story had been printed he called a conference of his friends. While he and John Q. Royce, state bank commissioner; J. H. Dolley, vice chairman of the Republican state committee, and Charles Sessions, private secretary to the governor, were discussing the kind of statement the governor should make, Mrs. Hoch came into the office. When the story was told her she broke down, and a stormy scene is said to have followed. Mrs. Hoch finally left the office by a side door.

When the governor came into his front office, 30 minutes later, he dictated the following statement to the newspapers. Beyond it he would say nothing in regard to the affair.

"I do not care to discuss this matter except to say that the story which has been whispered around by scandal mongers and has finally found extravagant coloring in print is grossly unkind and unjust to me. It has been circulated by people who have no interest in or regard for the feelings of either family. I have committed no intentional wrong and hold the person in question in the highest esteem. Did I not occupy the position I do, this story would have never been peddled or published. It is the part of hyena politics, altogether too common in Kansas."

THE STRICKEN CITY

(By Tiffin Gilmore)

Time was when a glorious city, above the chafing tide, For guest and foreign tourist, the friendly gates swung wide, Within a peaceful harbor, the great ships rode at ease, And furled each sail securely, a haven from wild seas, They had dipped their colors proudly, saluting Golden Gate, Received alike the courtesy, for there are none we hate, And by the ocean's portal, where lights were ever trimmed, A City and a Nation shone with glory never dimmed!

And eastward, northward, southward, the City beckoned, bring, The wealth of mountain gorges, here and smelters ring, The fruits, the wealth of grain, the herder's choicest flocks, Here seek and interchange in mart, and on the docks, With toilers of the seas, who now their hard won spoil, From frozen seas here offer, the tillers of the soil, For here ye buy and barter, here ye sell and trade, The merchants of a country, an open mart have made.

A buckskin shirt, there laughed at dangling queue, And silk and broadcloth brushed the whaler's oily crew, Bewildered Indians here 'een might a feather wear, A Spaniard's daughter, twine a rose within her hair, Motley? Yes! But scarce a crime to know, In recreation hour, and where none are foe, The friendly jest and laughter, of an idle hour, As fresh and welcome ever, as the summer shower.

A stricken city there, whose every hand and heart In other's trials, had promptly eased the smart! Of gaping wounds: But the hungry ye once fed, Now offer not the stone, but loaves of bread!

The million, and the widow's mite— it is your due And after many days, four-fold, returned to you, 'Tis but the bread ye cast upon the wave.

A Nation's heart outpour, and bids that ye be brave!
